Evolv Express[®] Touchless Security Screening

Screen 10X more people per hour than legacy systems and deliver a superior guest experience ... while also improving safety

At busy times, Major League Baseball teams often have ingress queues spill into surrounding spaces, creating fan frustration and elevating security risks. After installing Evolv Express units at all entrances, one MLB team in this situation has transformed its arrival experience.

Lines have been all but eliminated. Fewer gate staff are required. And, most importantly, fans enter happier, with more time to visit concession stands and restrooms before getting to their seats. This dramatic improvement has been accomplished with no reduction in security effectiveness. It's a better outcome for fans, for security, and for the business ... a true win-win-win.

Stronger Security Posture

- Automatically differentiate weapons from personal items
- Reduce soft target vulnerability of queues
- Use tech to assist guards in screening and threat resolution
- Place security perimeter almost anywhere

Superior Guest Experience

- Accurately screen up to 3,600 guests per hour
- Personal items remain in pockets and bags
- Groups stay together
- Touchless
- Very low false alert rate

Smarter Resource Allocation

- Significantly fewer staff required per entry point
- Fixed price "Security as a Service" business model
- Smaller operational footprint
- Easy venue conversion
- Compatible with legacy security and venue operating systems
